DELEGATION
Elevator Yukon
Housing Accelerator Fund

Jordan Stackhouse of Elevator Yukon provided an update on the Residential Conversion Grant program. The program launched in early January and only one application and three other inquiries were received thus far. With the application deadline approaching, Stackhouse recommended that the deadline be extended to allow for additional marketing and public engagement in hopes of reaching the goal of ten new dwelling developments under the program. Stackhouse also recommended that if there is no further interest in the Residential Conversation Grant program, and based on community interest, that Council consider a second round of the Housing Development Grant program. Administration confirmed that Bylaw is reaching out to targeted property owners who may qualify for the Residential Conversation Grant program. Council agreed to extend the Residential Conversation Grant program deadline and run a second round of the Housing Development Grant.

REPORTS

Second Reading of Capital Budget Bylaw 2025-01

Capital Budget Bylaw 2025-01 was before Council for Second Reading.
